IN-LINE BRIX-MONITOR CM-780N

Characteristics

auto control The recorder output (4 to 20mA) and the RS-232C output are incorporated to enable automatic control by interlinking with external equipment.

ATC Automatic Temperature Compensation (ATC) allows the correct concentration (Brix) to be displayed and output, even if the temperature of the sample changes.

NEW features

°C The sample temperature can be displayed by pressing [I] key while measuring Brix (%).

R "Default" function restores factory settings.

Applications

● Mixing, diluting and concentrating processes at food manufacturing plants.

Actual samples : fruit juice, soft drinks, coffee, cocoa, alcoholic drinks, tomato paste, sauce, ketchup, vinegar, pickled liquid, wort, condensed milk, etc.

● Fermenting processes.

Actual samples : soy sauce, alcohol, etc.

● Product changes in food production lines.

● Concentration of waste liquids.

Actual samples : waste liquid of sugar, alcohol, chemical, etc.

● Concentration of impurities mixed in hydrocarbon detergents or petrochemical detergents.

CIP Safe for Clean-In-Place (CIP) processes (power source must be turned off). (Up to 130°C)

100 °C Automatic Temperature Compensation (ATC) range of 5 to 100°C, allowing for high temperature in-line samples to be measured accurately.

Example for use

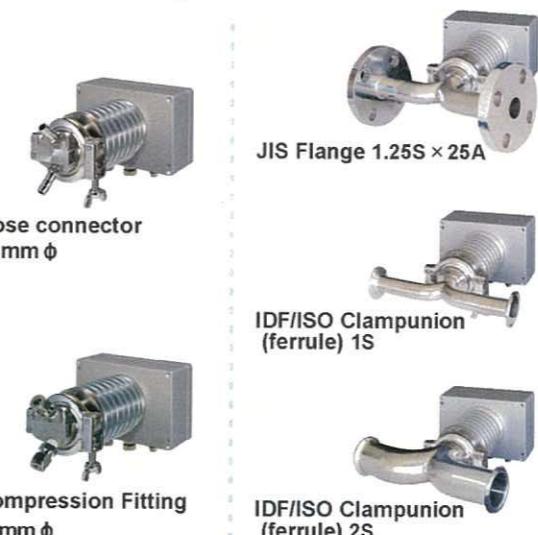

[Optional installation accessories are recommended for optimal performance.]

Installing the CM-780N directly into main piping may result in a clogged flow. Regardless of installation method, the flow of the sample solution should be in direct contact with the prism surface.
